ABOUT IAN KHAN

The Future is driven by convergence. On one hand, it is the convergence of Artificial Intelligence, Blockchain & the Internet of Things and on a different plane it is the convergence of Trust, Automation, & Experiences. For Public & Private entities creating and delivering impact and value, the future is least likely to be about financial results, as automation and technology will ensure profitability. What will remain is impacting the lives of people, solving problems and anticipating obstacles before they arrive.

Futurist, Ian Khan delivers an impactful session on helping understand the colossal changes that the world of tomorrow will undergo and why unlocking human potential should be the first goal on any organizations agenda. Ian Khan's most popular session , "7 Axioms of Value Creation", helping organizations create a success path by understanding why Purpose, Execution and People are the driving force behind success.
